Slagors Tactics

Units of Slagors should be small (preferably 1 rank), so that you can easily move or charge through friendly and enemy units. Avoid deploying only one unit of Slagors – it may not be enough to use this unit's full potential, so consider having at least two, deployed on both flanks. Due to their better Mobility, they will quickly get to the enemy deployment zone in the scenarios which demand it. Snake through the enemy units and defeat the heroes located behind them – a great advantage in all scenarios where your goal is to defeat particular enemy heroes like Mages, Command Groups, etc. Use them as a support to finish off the already damaged enemy units with only a couple of bases left. Always remember: Avoid engaging in combat with bigger and more powerful units.
