Trygodrons Tactics

The Arox army is proud of its mighty cavalry that tears the enemies apart. Charges of the Trygodrons can be devastating, as their Weapon Skill increases from 2 to 4 plus they are incredibly strong. Thanks to their better Mobility, they are potentially dangerous to the enemy one-rank units deployed on the flanks, or any other enemies who separated from the rest of the army.

Trygodrons should secure the flanks and not let the small enemy units distract your main forces. The best case scenario is when the Trygodrons' target is less numerous and has Toughness 3 or lower to allow you to add 3 or more dice to the Wound Test for the difference between its Toughness and the Trygodrons' Strength of 6 when charging.

A single rank of Trygodrons might have a hard time attempting to destroy an enemy single rank, as it depends on their roll and how many 1s they get in the WS Test. With only 10 dice during a charge, 8 of which are necessary to defeat the enemy, you will need a lot of luck. Therefore, consider deploying at least a two-rank unit to add more dice to the attack pool. Optionally, you can attach a Champion to add further 4 dice.

Colour scheme:

Hard skin and spikes – orange red

Bellies and softer skin – yellow-green with bluish glaze

Claws – black
